

Location Shooting

Location shooting is at the heart of what we do.

By filming at any location in the world we can illustrate your product or service in the correct environment. The benefit is that the viewer see things as they are in real life.

This production was shot on the open public road, and called for the hire of a specialist camera tracking vehicle to safely transport the “action” vehicle, allowing the presenter to concentrate on his performance and not worry about road safety.

Tympani arranged the lot..... hire of all the vehicles, police permissions to film on the open road, filming route, safety.....

This production was used as an introduction into a corporate re-branding initiative with a specific brief.

Shot in temperatures of -20 degrees in up state New York, the drifting snow added real atmosphere to the production.

Due to the freezing conditions, this was a physically demanding work environment for the equipment, not to mention the crew!
